Suggestions for YES Supplements Resellers

Important: In order to avoid your customers coming to YES to try to order from us, we highly recommend you consider the following suggestion.

Use your own Product Labels.

- a. Since YES contact info is provided on all of our labels, your customers can contact us to attempt to order.
- b. We cannot always know when one of your customers calls us to order, but when we are aware, we always turn them away and send them back to you to make their purchase.
- c. Using your own unique labels, with your contact info on them, will avoid this confusion and ensure your customers remain loyal to you.
- d. YES will be happy to provide the raw art files of our labels so that you can build your own labels from them. We urge you to only replace the YES contact info and logo (if you choose to). There may be other mentions of YES on the labels that should also be removed. YES Labels are already within compliance with Nutritional Supplement label laws, so making changes to the Supplement Facts, and other technical info should not be done.
- e. YES Supplements does not provide custom labels for our resellers, though we can recommend to you the company we use to have our labels printed.
- f. YES only posts our highest retail prices on our website in order to avoid any competition with our resellers.

Your Essential Supplements, Incorporated will not ever knowingly sell to your customers. But, if you decide not to provide your own labels and therefore, your customers do call us to order without divulging to us that they are your customers, we will not be held accountable for selling to them. YES also has no way of knowing if any of the customers who order from our website might be yours and will not be held liable for fulfilling any such web orders.
